UPDATE ON THE UNLAWFUL ARREST AND DETENTION OF DATTI ASSALAFIY

Fellow compatriots, since the lazy, corrupt and not fit for purpose Nigerian media are not willing or able to condemn or investigate the abduction and disappearance of Datti Assalafiy, we at CUPS have made it our business to investigate this national scandal and inform you accordingly. We contacted Datti's family and interviewed them, so as to get accurate information.

For those who don't know him, Datti Assalafiy is a serving police officer, working as a special instructor at the Police Training College in Bauchi. Besides his job as a law enforcement officer, Datti's other passion is to investigate and expose the Boko Haram conspiracy. To this end, Datti created a platform on Facebook where he shared his thoughts and the outcome of some of his investigations. He has 5,000 Facebook friends and over 17,000 followers. Please check his page and judge for yourselves. The scale of his work against Boko Haram on social media is second to none!

Now, recently, Datti threatened to expose the treacherous relationship between Boko Haram and some corrupt military, security and law enforcement officials. As a professional investigator and an insider, Datti knows a lot about the ongoing dirty work between these evil forces. Money is collected from Boko Haram to undermine the fight against the insurgency. This is one of the reasons why the insurgency lasted as long as it did, and has suddenly started gaining momentum.

On Tuesday, 18/7/2017, Datti was visited at his place of work by the Army Brigade commanders of Gombe and Bauchi, in the company of other security officers, believed to be DSS operatives. They interrogated him and without warrant unlawfully confiscated his two mobile phones. Knowing that he had nothing to worry because he never broke the law, Datti remained calm and continued with his job as though nothing worrisome had happened.

On Thursday, 20/7/2017, the same Army commanders along with other security operatives came to Datti's place of work and took him away. He has not been seen since that day. All attempts by his family to persuade the Police, Army and DSS

Detainment.

The imbecility, criminality and sheer callousness shown by the abductors of Datti Assalafiy is mind boggling. To think that these corrupt officers are supposedly working for the Nigerian state is so painful and beyond belief. Make no mistake about it, Datti's abduction is a woeful attempt to cover up. While Datti is being held unlawfully against his will and possibly tortured for trying to expose treason against the state, Boko Haram are on rampage in Borno state with vengeance.

May God save Nigeria and Nigerians. Ameen.
